BODIES FOR DISSECTION.

A Bill To Repeal The Present Law Relating Thereto.

DISCUSSED IN THE SENATE.

Yesterday's Proceedings of Both Branches of The North Carolina Legislature—Insurance Rates.

Raleigh, Jan. 11—The Senate met at 10 o'clock. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Marshall.

A petition to place the names of Everett Dobson and Mike Byrd on the pension list was received.

A favorable report was made as to Senator Franks, of the thirty-first district holding his seat.

Bills were introduced as follows: To amend chapter 522, laws of 1891; to amend chapter 168, laws of 1897; to repeal chapter 159, laws of 1895, and to repeal chapter 189, laws of 1897; by Mr. Murray, to abolish the chain-gang system in Madison county.

The calendar was taken up. Bills passed to authorize the town of Salisbury to issue bonds for public improvements; to repeal chapter 360, of the laws of 1897, controlling the road system of Mecklenburg; to authorize Charlotte to issue bonds for waterworks and sewerage.

A resolution was adopted to investigate the Agricultural Department and the charitable institutions of the state.

A bill to repeal section 1,906 of The Code passed its third reading.

A bill repealing the law providing for the procuring and distribution of dead bodies came up. Senator Wilson stated that he had received a letter from the president of the University, asking that action on this bill be deferred for a few days, as he and several other representatives of the institutions would meet here in a few days and offer a substitute amendment. Senator Glenn contended that the bill should go upon its immediate passage; that it was right that the former bill regarding the disposition of dead bodies should be repealed as noxious. Senator Speight said that the bill should be deferred for consideration; that it was extremely difficult for our institutions to procure dead bodies for dissection, and that he thought an acceptable substitue might be offered for the bill. But the senate was pledged to support the bill, said Senator Glenn, it was one of the key-notes of the last campaign, and as for himself, he found that his promise in his speeches to see that the bodies of the poor and unfortunate should not be given to the surgeon's knife, did more good for his party than all his arguments. In favor of the immediate passage of the bill strong argument was made by Senators Hicks, Speight, Justice, Travis and Coolie, who earnestly requested that there be no delay. They believed it greatly to be deprecated that there should be in force any law that would hurt the families of poor unfortunates Senator Wilson then withdrew his request for postponement of action on the bill, and it was placed upon immediate passage, passing its readings. Rising to explain his vote (aye) Senator Fuller humorously said that he voted for the bill because the majority in the senate had been good to him, and he did not wish to rob them of campaign thunder.

A bill to repeal chapter 269, laws of 1895, with the amendment that it shall not apply to taxes levied prior to 1899, passed its final reading.

A resolution to appoint a joint committee on judicial districts was adopted.

A bill to change certain school districts in Chatham county, after argument by Senators Brown and Jerome that while they believed in a universal school system for the state, still they thought it unwise at this time to make legislation with reference to a certain district in the state, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Senators Glenn, Travis and Speight were appointed a joint committee on judicial districts.

On motion of Senator Osborne, the report of the elections committee, continuing Senator Franks in his seat, was taken up, but a vote of the Senate in the matter was postponed at the request of Senator Glenn, who stated that it would be wise to be careful before deciding that this senate recognized the Cherokee Indians as citizens of North Carolina.

By leave, a bill was introduced by Senator Skinner, to amend the public school law as found in chapter 108, laws of 1897, and by Senator Travis,

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C. Jan. 12

Mrs. E. J. Dyer and Mr. W. D. Simmons were married last night at the Methodist church at 6:30 o'clock by Rev. J. R. Scroggs. The happy couple left last night for Atlanta, Birmingham and other southern cities. Mr. Simmons is the superintendent of the High Point Coffin and Casket Co.

J. E. Waddill, of Carthage, traveling salesman for the Tyson & Jones Buggy Company of that place, is in the city.

J. N. Campbell went to Winston today to attend the funeral of his brother, Wm. Campbell.

The senate yesterday confirmed Capt. W. H. Snow as postmaster for this city.

Owing to the severe weather last night the Methodist church sociable was postponed until next Wednesday night.

Edward Renter who has been the superintendent of the Globe Furniture company since its organization, has resigned that position. His successor has not been elected yet.

Rev. J. D. Davis, of Concord, who held services in the Episcopal church one night this week, returned home last night.

Three little negroes Richard Blackwell, Mathew Hallis and Arthur Saunders were arranged before Magistrate W. B. Steele yesterday afternoon for stealing $5.00 from C. E. Cox, route agent on the Asheboro road. They were between 10 and 15 years old. They were released on bond until next term of court.

The Lilian Tucker company arrived this morning. They will open their engagement here tonight. One-half of the reserved seats are already taken.

COLONEL RANKIN DEAD.

Another of Greensboro's Old Landmarks Removed.

Within the past few months several of the aged and honored citizens of Greensboro have been called away by the hand of death, notably, Judge Dick, Uncle Frank Caldwell and Uncle Jesse Cunninggim. Today we are called upon to chronicle the death of Colonel W. S. Rankin, which occurred at his home in this city about 8 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness. The funeral services will be conducted at the Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and the interment will be made in the old Presbyterian cemetery near the church.

Col. Rankin was born in Guilford county 62 years ago. Before the war he followed clerking. At the outbreak of hostilities he, with Wm. Scott, a brother of L. M. Scott, of this city, raised and organized a company of volunteers. Scott was elected captain of this company and Rankin first lieutenant. He was noted for his spirit and bravery and was several times promoted, each time for some special act of bravery, until he was made colonel.

After the close of the war Col. Rankin engaged in the mercantile business in Greensboro in which he was successful. An incident is here recalled in which he narrowly escaped being murdered. In the days before Greensboro had the excellent banking facilities she now has, merchants going north to purchase goods were forced to the risky and perilous necessity of carrying large amounts of money in their pockets. On one occasion Col. Rankin was preparing to leave on the midnight train for New York. His family expected him to come home before starting. He failed to appear and search was made. He was found on the sidewalk with his head crushed and money stolen. From this he recovered.

Col. Rankin was a popular and good man, a consistent and useful member of the Presbyterian church. Two years ago he was the democratic nominee for the office of treasurer of Guilford county. He married Miss Mildred Dick, youngest sister of the late Judge R. P. Dick. She died about six years ago and by her side deceased will be laid in the old church burying ground tomorrow. The Telegram extends condolence to the bereaved friends of the deceased.

NORTH CAROLINA CONTESTS

Mr. Fowler Has Returned To Washington.

WILL PROBABLY NOT CONTEST.

Pritchard Now a Full-Fledged Lawyer—Now Believed That Ewart Will Be Confirmed.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 12—Representative John E. Fowler returned to Washington yesterday morning. Since the beginning of the holiday recess, Mr. Fowler has been at his home in North Carolina. During the remainder of the session of congress he will make his headquarters at the National Hotel.

Since the November elections there has been more or less doubt as to the intentions of Mr. Fowler to contest for a seat in the next house of representative. At first it was thought that a contest would surely be instituted in his district, but afterwards there seemed to be some doubt raised in regard to the matter. Mr. Fowler was seen at the National Hotel, where he is stopping last night, but was not prepared to express himself definitely, but from his statements it is inferred that he has decided not to enter a contest.

In the case of Mr. Fowler's failure to contest for a seat in the next house there will be but two contests from the state in the body, those of Representative Pearson and Oliver H. Dockery.

The contests from the state are not attracting much attention among North Carolina people coming to Washington, and it is generally regarded, that with the exception of Representative Pearson, none of the defeated republican candidates have the slightest show of winning in a contest before the house of representatives.

Mr. Fowler stated that matters in North Carolina are very quiet politically, and that much interest is felt in the work of the legislature. The congressman regards the passage of a new election law, patterned after that of Mississippi, as an almost foregone conclusion. The populist party, he says, will not throw any obstacles in the way of the democratic majority in the legislature carrying out their work.

Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, has now become a full-fledged lawyer, having been admitted to practice before the Supreme court of the United States. The motion on which the senator from North Carolina was admitted was made by Assistant Attorney General Boyd. It is said that the senator will shortly appear in some law cases before the court, in which he is interested.

Charles Moore, of North Carolina, a lawyer of the state has also been admitted to practice before the supreme court. He was admitted on Tuesday, on motion of Col. Boyd. Mr. Moore is in the city on legal business in which he is connected, and his admission was to enable him to appear before the court for this purpose.

It is announced that Rev. Peyton Hoge, of North Carolina, has been appointed as the literary executor of the late divine. Dr. Hoge at his death left many valuable books and manuscripts, including his autobiography, and it is said that in a short time these will be compiled and published by his executors.

Another prominent railroad man in Washington is Mr. L. A. Emerson, of Charleston, South Carolina. Mr. Emerson is the traffic manager of the South Carolina and Georgia railroad company, and he is in the city on business connected with his road.

Senator Pritchard's active entrance into the fight for the confirmation of Judge Ewart's nomination, has caused North Carolina people to believe that Ewart will be confirmed. It is expected the nomination will be reported to the senate this week and acted upon.

T. J. D. Whitehurst has been appointed postmaster at Bethel, Pitt county, North Carolina, to succeed S. A. Gainer, removed.

Miss P. Platt, of Salisbury, is in the city for a few days, stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Mr. Greek O. Andrews, of Raleigh, who by some means was overcome by illuminating gas at a hotel in this city the other night, has been discharged from the Emergency hospital. He is very indignant that he should have been suspected of having attempted to commit suicide. His father arrived from Raleigh, N. C., yesterday morning, and took the young man home.

MR. ROSS AWAKENED.

Forty-eight Hours Sleep Ended Last Night—The Performance.

Considering the extremely cold and disagreeable, slippery weather last night, the audience at Opera House was very large. The hall was more than half filled and no one who attended can ever regret it. Mr. Lee had arranged an excellent program, and he created more genuine hearty fun there last night than the people of Greensboro have ever been afforded before in the same length of time.

There were nineteen volunteers, of whom nearly all were hypnotized and about ten made excellent subjects.

Mr. Burke, a traveling salesman, whose avoirdupois is about two hundred, was made to believe that he was a crying baby; Mr. Gatlin, a tall, slim gentleman, thought he was the father whose duty it was to quiet the little one. The fretful babe paid no attention to the father's efforts, however, and only cried the harder. Finally Mr. Gatlin lost patience and turned the 200 pound babe across his knee and administered the usual punishment. During this performance the audience was in a roar of laughter.

Another scene which "brought down the house" was a the 200 pounder trying to hit Mr. Lee in the face. After striking several times, his fist passing first on one side and then on the other, he became very angry, pulled off his coat and went into it in earnest. He struck so that he would fall, but he would get up and go at it again. He struck blows that would have paralyzed a prize-fighter, but none of them landed.

Many other scenes, too numerous to mention, equally amusing, kept things lively the entire evening.

At 10:25 o'clock Mr. Howard Ross, who had been sleep for 48 hours in the Carolina Shoe Co.'s window, was awakened. When the word was given the sleeper awoke with a spring that would have taken him completely off the cot had he not been held. Immediately he was placed on the scales and weighed. His weight was 155 lbs. —7¼ lbs. less than on Monday night when was he put to sleep. Mr. Ross was not hungry, wanted no water and was in exactly the same condition he was when put to sleep. He did not know there had been a fire, nor that the ground was covered with ice.

Mr. Lee offers a complete change of program for tonight, and promises to make the performance better nightly.

CAKE-WALK TO-NIGHT.

The Lees will produce for the first time in this city, at the Opera House tonight, their hypnotic cake-walk, said to be one of the funniest things they do. Ten good subjects have promised to volunteer their services.

THE SLEEPER AWAKENED.

Santanell's Performance at The Academy Last Night.

Last night the hail, snow and sleet did not keep the people away from the Academy of Music. Much interest was manifested in the awakening of the 48 hour sleeper who had lain for two days and nights in the front window at C. M. Vanstory & Co's.

After a short explanatory talk Santanelli prepared to awaken him and invited the physicians present to come upon the stage, Drs. Turner and Battle responding. The sleeper was first placed in a cataleptic state and placed upon two wooden benches. Mr. Garland Daniel was then asked to step upon him which he did. The subject was then placed upon his feet, told he was limber and he immediately sank into a chair. He was then held by five persons and awakened. It was particularly interesting to watch the change of expression on his face. As an evidence that he was fresh and bright and felt no fatigue from his long sleep he was almost immediately put upon the stage and entered readily into the performance of the evening.

A visitor in the city who had not seen any of the previous performances but who has traveled extensively and has seen many eminent hypnotists, after the performance last night, said: "Santanelli is the most wonderful man I have ever seen. I would like to spend the week here and attend every night."

Today a number of professional men met Santanelli at the academy and held the quiz as announced yesterday. It was highly instructive, but the main points brought out were covered by the lectures delivered yesterday and the day before.

A New Law Firm.

Ex-Judge Adams has started the New Year right by locating in the best town in the South—he has moved to Greensboro and formed a copartnership with Mr. R. D. Douglas for the practice of law. The new firm will occupy Mr. Douglas' present office in rear of the Five Cents Savings Bank. Good luck to you, gentlemen.

THE CONDITIONS IMPROVING.

Despatch From General Otis at Manila.

CITY QUIET, BUSINESS ACTIVE.

The Absence of Definite Information Leads to Belief That the Iloilo Situation is Improving.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 12—The war department made public today a dispatch from Gederal Otis at Manila, as follows:

"The conditions in the Philippine Islands are apparently improving. The citizens feel more secure and many natives are returning to the city. Manila is quiet and business is active."

The war department officers express the opinion which they have entertained for the last two or three days, that affairs at Iloilo will gradually right themselves without any sacrifice of life. It is understood that nothing has been learned from Otis in regard to the situation at Iloilo since the steamboat which arrived at Manila Sunday. If any serious developments have appeared at the Panay capital, Otis, in all probability, has been informed.

The absence of information leads the administration officers to believe the situation at Panay is improving. Great satisfaction is expressed over the censorship order. The administration is not pleased at the action of the Philippine junta. In Washington this feeling has not improved since it became evident that Aguinaldo was assuming the attitude of active hostility towards this country.

She Will Sell It.

Jane Black, Greensboro's notorious liquor seller, whose color is like her surname, and whose name is already familiar to almost every judge in the State, was up before the Mayor yesterday afternoon on the same old charge. This is more than half-a-dozen times the persistent amazon has been indicted for selling firewater, but she has never spent much time in jail. Mayor Taylor bound her over to court on a bond of $200, which she gave.

New Store at Summerfield.

A party from Summerfield, who was in the city this morning, tells us that Mr. John Price, of Rockingham county, is putting up a new store building at Summerfield and will carry a full line of general merchandise.

THURSDAY, JAN. 12, 1899.

There should be a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals in every town in North Carolina. The legislature now in session at Raleigh might well devote some time to this question. Go where you will and it will not take you long to find out that there are people everywhere who have no feeling or thought for the comfort of the brute creation. Even here in Greensboro, this christianized, enlightened and humane town, horses receive treatment every day for which somebody ought to arrested. Just at this time not the least of this ill treatment is working horses where they will slip and fall on the ice and then beating and cursing them because they can't stand up. This was witnessed more than once yesterday.

Hal Ayer, who by accident occupies the position of state auditor, wants the legislature to provide him with an additional clerk and a stenographer; he also recommends that the salary of the chief clerk be raised to $1,500. The charming and lovely little auditor takes the cake for gall and unparalleled cheek. Wonder if he thinks the people don't know he had plenty of time away from the duties of his office to do campaign work, to scheme and study plans for dirty work—anything to beat the democrats? Perhaps he now wants all of his time (with salary attached) to prepare campaign documents for 1900. If R. M. Furman could audit the accounts for the legislature of 1895, and Ayer himself managed to scramble through the work for 1897, there need be no fears of the volume of work after the legislature of 1899. We would suggest to Mr. Ayer, however, that if he finds the volume of work too great for himself with the assistance provided, he might resign and let the present legislature put in a working man.

Had a Place in History.

New York, Jan. 11—Colonel George P. Webster died in this city today of Brights disease. Colonel Webster was born in Watertown, Conn., in 1818. He was in the Kentucky Legislature and it was his vote that kept his state in the Union when war broke out, his vote deciding the tie which elected Garrett Davis to the United States Senate. He was well acquainted with President Lincoln and was frequently consulted by him. He served as Colonel in the war. Of late years he had been a lawyer in this city.

Coughing injures and inflames sore lungs. One Minute Cough Cure loosens the cold, allays coughing and heals quickly. The best cough cure for children. Perfectly harmless. Howard Gardner.

Anti-Saloon Leagues.

Rev. J. W. Lee, the Irish evangelist, has recently been in Asheville and while there organized an anti-saloon league. This is the first one organized in the state but Mr. Lee hopes and proposes to organize a like association in every township in the state. He came down from Asheville this morning to organize a league in Salisbury and will do so before he leaves.—Salisbury Sun.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Elden, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. Howard Gardner.

The stockholders of the Hamilton National bank, of Boston, have decided to go into voluntary liquidation.

The senate adjourned at 12:20 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House met at 10 o'clock. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Eugene Daniel.

The tellers for the election of an enrolling clerk reported that E. B. Norvell received a majority of the votes. Norvell was sworn in by Speaker Connor.

A favorable report was made on the resolution appointing a committee to ask the governor for his reasons for removing J. W. Wilson and S. Otho Wilson as railroad commissioners; also all the evidence in that matter.

Resolutions were introduced as follows: By Holman, directing the state treasurer to pay the employes of the penitentiary for October, November and December, 1898, and set apart $5,000 for this purpose. By Williams of Dare, instructing Senators and Representatives to secure an appropriation for a beacon in Pamlico sound.

Bills were introduced as follows: By Leatherwood, to give Swain county the Supreme court reports from volume 1 to volume 85. By Williams, to incorporate the African Aid and Burial society of North Carolina. By Boushall, to incorporate St. Luke's Circle, King's daughters, of Raleigh. By Ranson, to establish school districts in Huntersville township, Mecklenburg county. By Ray, to abolish the Cumberland county dispensary at Fayetteville (with petition from business men.) By Noble, to repeal all laws, regulating elections in North Carolina. By Garrett, to amend chapter 378, acts of 1897, by allowing judges of elections in Graham and Rockingham counties to be paid. By Reinhardt, to amend the road law of Lincoln, and to put Mrs. Frances Centre on the pension roll. By Wright, to amend chapter 134, acts of 1897. By Boushall, to provide for revising and digesting the public statutes. By Houser, to prohibit hunting on any lands in Gaston save by owner's consent. By Lowery, to amend the constitution, by reducing the homestead to $150 personal property and $500 real property. By Smith, to equalize pay of state's witnesses, sheriffs and clerks. By Hartsell, to amend section 21 of The Code so that a will may be caveated upon certificate that the caveator give bond. By Gattis, to incorporate the Bank of Orange.

The committee on propositions and grievances was announced, as follows: Ray of Macon, chairman; Allen of Columbus, Austin, Bunch, Hendren, Davis of Haywood, Harrison, Stevens, Johnson of Sampson, Holland, Barnhill, Pierce, Williams of Yadkin.

A bill was taken up to repeal chapter 163, public laws of 1897, requiring fire insurance companies not to charge a higher rate of insurance on farm property than is charged in Virginia. Mr. Gilliam said there was no state rate of insurance in Virginia, Foushee said John S. Cunningham introduced the bill of 1897, and that he believed it had done good and protected the farmers. Holman said the Legislature ought to go slow in this matter. Justice said the committee had reported the bill favorably because the act of 1897 did not specify any rate. It was stated that the Southeastern Tariff Association, one of the greatest trusts in the country, fixes the rates in Virginia as well as in NorthCarolina. Foushee said Col. Cunningham knew what he was doing; that he found the charge in Virginia ½ of 1 per cent. less than in North Carolina. Rountree said he thought the act of 1897 was unconstitutional. Gattis thought the present law a good one. Gilliam said it was impossible to enforce it. Many members joined in the discussion for or against the pending bill. Finally it was referred to the committee.

Bills were passed incorporating the Southern Conservatory of Music and amending the Anson county road law, so roads will be worked by convict labor; increasing to five the number of commissioners of Edgecombe county; to pay special veniremen in Lincoln county; to amend the charter of St. Mary's School, Raleigh; to repeal chapter 316, private laws of 1895 in regard to a turnpike between Buncombe's and Hickory Nut Gap; to allow Louisburg to issue bonds for public improvements.

A resolution was adopted giving the Bagley Monument Association leave to place a monument or statue in memory of Worth Bagley in the capitol square; also a resolution asking the government to erect beacon lights at Hatteras and in Pamlico Sound, in the cape channel.

The following was announced as the special committee on judicial districts: Justice, chairman; Rountree, Allen, Stubbs and Craig.

At 1 o'clock the House adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Messrs. Noble and Nichols are added to the education committee; Wall to that on counties, cities and towns, Welch to that on insurance; Williams of Iredell to that on salaries and fees, Williams of Yadkin to that on insane. —Charlotte Observer.

Character in the Eyebrows.

An arched eyebrow does not indicate the highest order of intelligence, but is expressive of great sensibility. Scant growth of the eyebrows denotes lack of vitality. On the contrary, heavy, thick eyebrows indicate a strong constitution and great physical endurance.

They are not beautiful on a woman's face, however much they may signify either mental or bodily vigor, and when they are not only heavy, but droop and meet at the nose, they are disagreeable and are said to accompany an insincere and prying nature. Long, drooping eyebrows, lying wide apart, indicate an amiable disposition. Where the eyebrows are lighter in color than the hair the indications are lack of vitality and great sensitiveness.

Faintly defined eyebrows placed high above the nose are signs of indolence and weakness. Very black eyebrows give the face an intense and searching expression. When natural, they accompany a passionate temperament. Very light eyebrows rarely are seen on strongly intellectual faces, although the color of the eyebrows is not accepted simply as denoting lack of intelligence. The form gives the key to the faculties and their direction. Red eyebrows denote great fervor and ambition; brown, a medium between the red and black. —Exchange.

A Modern Battleship.

A battleship is not only a floating fortress, but is also a steam power plant of the largest size, with a greater variety and number of engines or machines than is ever dreamed of by the uninitiated. Of all this combination there is no portion that can be permitted to remain in a state of repose for any length of time without endangering its effective action when the emergency arises for which it was designed. It is only by constant use that they can be kept perfectly efficient.

On an armored cruiser like the Brooklyn of the United States navy, taking her as a sample of an up to date warship, between a battleship and an ordinary cruiser, there are altogether 81 separate engines, having a total of 156 steam cylinders.

Add in imagination to this number, imposing in itself, the vast quantity and extent of steam, exhaust and water piping needed to connect all these engines to the boilers, condensers and water systems, the thousands of valves to be kept workable and efficient. Then include the seven great boilers, capable of evaporating into steam, under forced draft, 185 tons of water an hour, and one can begin to comprehend the vastness of the steam plant of a modern ship.—Cassier's Magazine.

India Rubber.

Not a little singular is the fact noted by chemists that, contrary to the general belief, natural india rubber is not waterproof. Indeed since the article has to be dried to be freed of its moisture the conclusion is obvious that it will absorb moisture again, and, according to experiments mentioned by E. Schulze in the Gummi Zeitung, it does so with certain rapidity.

It is found that rolled rubber plates, which by virtue of their treatment are in a somewhat compressed condition, absorb from 8 to 25 per cent of water in two hours. When the water is heated to about 120 degrees F., at increased pressure, the absorption takes place much more readily, and a piece of rubber, kept in a cylinder under a pressure of 140 pounds, absorbed 25 per cent of water in five minutes.

Oils, of course, stop the water. Vulcanized rubber remains dry, though not entirely so, and badly vulcanized goods deteriorate, owing to this reason. Schulze kept a plate of the best Para rubber in water not above 110 degrees F., and after 2½ months it had become a hopeless, smeary mass.

The Elaborate Chinese Novel.

It is a proof of the high degree of elaboration to which fiction literature in China has been carried that most of their novels are thickly interspersed with poems of all orders of merit. No stronger evidence could be afforded of the fact that whatever they lack it is not literary finish. If anything, they have this in excess. These poems are introduced in a variety of ways. The hero sends one in a billet doux to the heroine, or he overhears her singing one or perhaps a poetic contest is struck up, the fine on defeat being generally the compulsory drinking of so many extra flagons of wine. Wine drinking and poetizing almost invariably go together in Chinese novels, though whether they do so in real life we are unable to say. Above all things, every man who sets up to be anything in the way of a hero in Chinese fiction must be prepared to extemporize by the ream in inimitable poetry. Rev. G. F. Candlin in Open Court.

Punishment.

"The idea of sending children to bed early to punish 'em!" exclaimed Mrs. Corntossel, who was discussing her city relatives. "That ain't any way to o'rect 'em."

"Of course it ain't," answered her husband. "If you want to convince 'em that you mean business, make 'em get up an hour or so earlier in the morning." —Washington Star.

Sure of Game.

Fox—There is one thing that I can say for Badger; whenever he goes shooting his family is sure of game.

Knox—Why, is he such a good shot?

Fox—No; but it really doesn't make any difference whether he shoots anything or not, for if he doesn't get any game his wife makes game of him. Boston Courier.

In one of Carlyle's private letters sold in London recently he says: "Oliver Cromwell had no squint, stare or deficiency of any kind in the eyes of him. One eye, probably the left—but I am not sure—was considerably bigger than the other."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful conditien tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

OUTRAGED AND MURDERED.

A Horrible Double Crime Followed by a Lynching.

Gulf, N. C., Jan. 11—Mrs. Nancy Welch, a most excellent white widow lady, and mother of five children, residing about three miles from Harper's Cross Roads, Bear Creek township, in Chatham county, was outraged and murdered yesterday evening. Mrs. Welch had been visiting at Mr. Jones', her son-in-law.

The deed was committed about 5 o'clock in the afternoon by Henry Jones, a black negroe about 35 years old. He was a desperate character.

As Mrs. Welch did not return at night, search was made and her body found about fifty yards from the public road at 9 o'clock, with her throat cut. The alarm was given, search was made and the negro was found at his home, near Richmond, this morning about 3 o'clock, carried back to the scene of murder and hanged by about fifty unknown parties.

The dead body was found swinging from a limb this morning. There was blood on his clothes and a razor in his pocket. Jones confessed his guilt. —Special to News and Observer.

When You Have a Bad Cold

You want the best medicine that can be obtained, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure.

You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keepexpectoration easy.

You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia.

You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only medicine in use that meets all of these requirements. This remedy is famous for its cures of bad colds throughout the United States and in many foreign countries. It has rivals, but, for the speedy and permanent cure of bad colds stands without a peer and its splendid qualities are everywhere admired and praised. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The sentence of ex-Coroner Coombs, of Brooklyn, N. Y., for fraudulently collecting inquest bills, has been approved by the New York Supreme Court

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe and its exhausting after effects. Never fails. Howard Gardner.

While delirious from grip James A. Hume jumped from a window of his home in the Harlem section of New York, and fractured his skull.

Mr. Elisha Berry, of this place, says he never had anything to do him so much good and give such quick relief from rheumatism as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He was bothered with shooting pains from hip to knee until he used this liniment, which affords prompt relief.—B. F. Baker, druggist, St. Paris, Ohio. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Unfortunate Mary Wollstonecraft.

Conspicuous among the brilliant and beautiful women of her time was the lovely and every way unfortunate Mary Wollstonecraft Godwin, the first agitator of the question of "woman's rights." No woman, with the exception of Mme. de Stael, made so great an impression on the public mind. Her new and startling doctrines were seized with an avidity scarcely credible at this day, and her famous book, "The Vindication of the Rights of Women," was the theme of the most universal praise and abuse.

Thomas Paine, the author of "The Rights of Man," was one of her familiar acquaintances, but their intercourse was an argument, their views neither on this subject nor any other coinciding. In these arguments Paine either lost his temper or became sulky, and the woman champion won an easy victory.

Until her marriage with Mr. Godwin she was the friend of Mrs. Siddons, but she, with the majority of her admirers, declined to sanction this union, for she had married some years before an American called Imlay, to whom she had been a most devoted wife. The man, however, took advantage of the fact that the marriage was only a civil one, performed in Paris, and deserted her. She then married Mr. Godwin, but this act placed her in a position no charity could explain away. Death, however, soon covered her faults with a pitiful oblivion. She left an infant daughter a few hours old, who afterward became the wife of Percy Bysshe Shelley.—Exchange.

Those Black Eyes.

"The small son of the people," says the Philadelphia Record, "and his little sister were inside the great West Philadelphia church for the first time. 'Um—m—my! but it's a beaut place,' he whispered. 'I bet people wot belong here comes every time dey can.' Her breath came to her in little gasps. Her soiled little finger pressed on his with thrilled intensity. Her eyes feasted on the splendid chancel. 'Heaven mus' be nex' door,' she said. They hardly moved throughout the service, and never once let go each other's hands, for it was as a strange land. At last the sweet voiced procession of choir boys came down the aisle. At its head was a slim young seraph, with a face as fair and pure as the linen he wore. Faint, dark circles beneath his eyes completed the ethereal effect.

"'Is dem angels?' the little girl began, but stopped short, surprised at the look on her brother's face.

"'Dat kid in front's Bill Griggs, wot I licked last week fer swipin' t'ings from ole Mrs. Maguire's apple stand. He ain't got over dem black eyes I gev 'im yet. Come on, let's git out.' His face was stern and set as they went. She furtively wiped a tear."

Field and the Street Arabs.

Never was a man more devoted to his wife. Nevertheless on the day that made her his he was guilty of keeping her waiting for him at the church. The bridal party had assembled and were rapidly becoming uneasy. At length, after an anxious delay, some one went out in search of the missing bridegroom.

He was found on the street a short distance away, down on his knees in the mud, absorbed in settling a dispute between two small street arabs, which had arisen over a game of marbles. Listening with eager interest to the testimony vociferated at either ear by the belligerent parties and their friends and trying to evolve a peace compromise out of a very lively quarrel, he was abruptly reminded that just then he had something more important to attend to, and hastened penitently away to make his anxious bride Mrs. Field.

She Was Unduly Excited.

Bishop Selwyn was a hard worker and never spared himself. He was one day seizing an hour's much needed sleep on the bench of a little roadside station in Derbyshire, en route for a confirmation. A lady of some social distinction and her daughter were on their way to the same rite, the daughter as a confirmee. They went to the solitary porter and said they were afraid to pass the drunken man on the platform, to which the porter replied in tones of much solemnity, "If you please, my lady, it's the lord bishop!"—Mainly About People.

England's "Rose Regiment."

The custom of wearing roses in their headgear by the Lancashire regiment on the anniversary of the battle of Minden originated in a curious manner. On the day of the battle, Aug. 1, 1759, the men passed through a field of roses, each man plucking a rose and placing it in his bonnet, wearing the flower during the fight. This commenced the custom which obtains at the present day of wearing roses on the anniversary of the battle.

The Sultan's Throneroom.

The throneroom of the sultan at Constantinople is a gorgeous sight. The gilding is unequaled by any other building in Europe, and from the ceiling hangs a superb Venetian chandelier, the 200 lights of which make a gleam like that of a veritable sun. At each of the four corners of the room tall candelabra in baccarat glass are placed, and the throne is a huge seat covered with red velvet, and having arms and back of pure gold.

Rosebery's Definition of Memory.

Here is a joli mot of Lord Rosebery's—would one ever expect mots from Lord Rosebery?—told in our garden by a woman who heard him say it at a dinner. Some one asked him what memory was. "Memory," said Lord Rosebery, "is the feeling that steals over us when we listen to our friends' original stories."—Harper's Bazar.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

A Peculiar Wasp.

The entomological editor of a Para newspaper has swelled the already unequaled list of Brazil's noxious insects with a remarkable discovery. The new pest is a wasp with a spiral sting of unusual proportions. The insect, furthermore, lives in a phosphorus region, and its sting has the effect of impregnating the victim in such a manner that everything he tastes and smells has a flavor of phosphorus.

Emin Pasha's Consolation.

Amid all my recent troubles and trials I have had one great consolation. I have discovered a largish cat, hitherto unknown to naturalists. It will arouse considerable interest in Europe.—"Life and Work of Emin Pasha."

The Place For the Repentant.

They had eloped and returned for the parental blessing.

"Father," the beautiful young woman said, "we are sorry for what we have done. Will you"—

"Then," the stern old man interrupted, "why don't you go to the lawyer around the corner? I'm no divorce court."—Chicago News.

One Consolation.

There is one consolation in being on the shady side of life. When a man gets to be 50 years or so and he says of a young woman, "Confound it, if I wasn't married already I'd marry the girl myself," he actually believes she would have him. This is as good as getting her, better perhaps.—Boston Transcript.

When you cannot sleep for coughing take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives prompt relief. It is most excellent for colds, too, as it aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and prevents any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by C. E. Holton.

BUTLER'S BUNCOMBE BUSTED.

His Pension Amendment Will Be Withdrawn.

Washington, Jan. 11—Senator Butler says that in view of the expressed opposition by Confederate veteran associations throughout the Southern states, he will not press his amendment, of which he gave notice offering to pension soldiers of the Confederate army.

Judge Ewart is here and is making an active canvass of the seante in behalf of his confirmation.

Senator Pritchard introduced a joint resolution today construing the act of June 27, 1890, granting pensions to soldiers and sailors. It provides that it shall be construed to include all persons who served ninety days and were honorably discharged, provided that it shall not apply to soldiers who had prior service in the Confederate army and did not enter in the Union service prior to Dec. 1, 1864.

Senator Pritchard said that if his resolution becomes a law it will result in putting several thousand North Carolinians, and their dependent children, upon the pension roll who are now barred.—Special Morning Post.

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well: now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

That is what it was made for.

To Our Friends and Patrons:

In closing our books for the year 1898 we find we have quite a number of small accounts which in themselves are trivial, but she aggregate would make quite a nice sum. While we wish to be obliging and courteous to our customers and try ro please all, we must insist upon getting onr business upon more of a Cash Basis.

To open so many small accounts involves quite an amount of book keeping and consumes too much valuable time. This can bo avoided by paying cash for your bundle when delivered and do away with all possibility of disputed accounts.

Thanking our customers for their patronage in the past, and extending to each and every one the greetings of the season.

Respectfully,

The Steam Laundry,

Mrs. J. K. Morris, mother of Mrs. W. J. Clary, was called to Durham this morning by the death of her niece, Miss Pocahontas Happer, which occurred yesterday.

Thomas Hughes got drunk on the streets last night and was towed to the lock-up by Officer Weatherly. Hughes is an ex-Confederate soldier and was on his way to the Soldiers' Home at Raleigh, when he squeezed the bottle too tight.

J. M. and W. R. Odell, of Concord, passed through the city this morning going to Durham to attend a meeting of the stock holders of the Durham Cotton Manufacturing Co. They were accompanied by J. A. Odell, of this place, who is also a stock holder.

A meeting will be held in the court house next Sunday at 3 p. m. at which Rev. J. W. Lee will deliver an address in which he will explain the present local option law and its needed amendments. He may perhaps, touch on the dispensary law as well.

Miss Lillian Staples and Mr. J. A. Gilmer, of the Greensboro Dramatic Club, returned from Danville last night, having assisted the Danville Club in giving two performances of "Young Mrs. Winthrop." The Danville papers say that Greensboro talent was conspicuously in evidence—as usual.

Fred Lehman, the amiable advance agent for the Lee's Company of hypnotists, left this morning for Salisbury, where the Lees show next week. We assure the people of Salisbury of a week of fun. Mr. Lehman, during his short stay here, has made many warm friends who will be glad to welcome him back to Greensboro at any time.

Ticket Office Robbed.

Between 12:45 and 2 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, while Ticket Agent John B. Graham was gone to dinner, the Southern ticket office at this place was broken into and robbed of $168 and odd cents. The thief made egress by prying open the door between the ticket office and the colored reception room. His work must have been accomplished in less than five minutes as he was seen by no one.

The office at Danville was robbed in the same manner Monday and it is thought that both robberies were committed by a professional.

Lee at The College.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Lee and a number of his assistants gave a very interesting lecture and some demonstrations of hypnotism at the Greensboro Female College. A number of teachers and others were operated upon, some of whom proved good subjects. The experiments though simple was very much enjoyed by those present. Today at 1:30 o'clock Mr. Lee entertained a party of ladies at the residence of Mrs. W. C. Porter on Summit avenue. At 3:30 o'clock he delivered another lecture at the State Normal and Industrial College.

Hypnotizes Her Cook.

A certain lady in South Greensboro who has been attending the performances given by the two noted hypnonists who hold sway in Greensboro now, has been trying her hand at hypnotizing. She first tried her skill on the cook and her success has been such that she now has that important functionary almost entirely under her control, something, by the way, that the majority of housewives would like to be able to do. When she has acquired a little more skill in the science the lady has promised to hypnotize some of her neighbors.
